IT PAYS TO BUY FOR CASH.

Money is Power! Labor is Power!

You work a week for $10.00.

That ten dollars represents a week of your life work. You are a week older, and as the weeks, months and years go by your strength is gradually exhausted; you have put your strength into dollars.

What have you done with these dollars? Have you spent them as fast as you earned them? If you have, you are poor indeed; but if you have spent only a part of the dollars and kept some of them, you have in these dollars stored up energy and strength to provide for you in your old age.

How much better still is your position if you have put these saved dollars to work for you!

A good way to do this is to deposit them in some good, strong bank.

The Westminster Bank,
Westminster, S. C.,
is a good place to put these dollars.

Young Bride Kills Herself.

Moultrie, Ga., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Jennie Hancock, 18 years old, a bride of a few months, wife of a wealthy farmer of Colquitt county, was found to-day stretched on the floor with blood streaming from a wound in her side. Her hands still clutched the shotgun which she had used. The young woman had, from all appearances, leaned over the gun, pressed the muzzle against her side and then pulled the trigger. She died before a doctor arrived.

Finding Out Johnson.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Jack Johnson's automobile, a safe and the fixtures of the saloon, of which he was until recently the proprietor, were seized to-day by the sheriff to satisfy a judgment of $5,621 obtained against the negro by a brewing company. For some time the negro apparently has been training to fight again. He has been boxing at a local gymnasium. Objection was made to his using the gymnasium and yesterday he was requested to find some other place.

LITTLE CHILD'S BODY FOUND.

Chattooga River Gives Up Its Dead and Solves Mystery.

The mystery of the disappearance of the little four-year-old child from the Pine Mountain, Ga., section has been solved.

Last Monday the little body was washed to the banks of the Chattooga river, and it was discovered by people in that section, who, though having given up active search for the child, were still alert for any clue that might lead to its finding. J. C. Powell, of the Russell section, was in Walhalla Tuesday and reported the facts as above given. The body, it is said, was in a fair state of preservation, though it is now about three weeks since the child disappeared.

While the mystery of the whereabouts of the child is cleared up, still it is cause for wonder and speculation as to how the little one got into the river, as the Chattooga is between two and two and a half miles, at its nearest point, from the home of the child's father, John Owens.

FROM THE NEW SUPERVISOR.

Gives to the Public Account of Conditions As He Finds Them.

Editor Keowee Courier: Just for a bit of information, and in accordance with my promise to the public, I wish to give an account of the condition of Oconee county as far as I am able to find.

1st. The Poor Farm, which I would term a "model" farm (I know of no better in our county), comprises 268 acres, about 100 acres in high state of cultivation, all terraces accurate and thoroughly established, about 30 acres in well sodded bermuda pasture. There are plenty of good buildings, well arranged and in good condition, and a full equipment of farming tools; four good milch cows, plenty of pigs for this fall's killing. There are fourteen paupers, who seem to be well cared for. The whole situation at the Poor Farm seems to be excellent. We have two good 900-pound mules at the farm, which we can use with road machine. We also have four county road mules, which have seen their best days with the road machine, and are now ready to be led "over the hill to the poor farm," where they, too, can spend their last days at such work as they are able to perform. This leaves us ten good mules, which will just fit up our road equipment—six for the machine and four for plow in connection therewith. We now have eight convicts, one very good road machine, three others badly worn and crippled up.

2d. As to the county's financial condition, I cannot yet give out any accurate figures. There are quite a number of claims audited, but we have no available funds to meet them. We also have two notes at the Enterprise Bank ($9,000), and a lot of claims still to audit. When the Treasurer has collected all the taxes, and we have paid as far as it goes, we will probably lack several thousand dollars to meet these demands. In regard to the bonded debt (which is provided for by special levy) we still have about $32,000 outstanding. So it seems that the indebtedness of Oconee county, after all taxes are in and applied, will be approximately $40,000, without a single dollar in sight for any county purpose this side of next fall's taxes, with the exception of about $3,000 commutation road tax—and about 1,500 miles of road to work with that small pitance. Yet I can hurl my hat in the air and proclaim "Good Roads for Oconee County!" It is not American spirit to turn back, but ever look forward—the "goal" is always in front, and not so far ahead as one would often suppose.

Entertain every good roads thought that presents itself to you; it is pure food for this great, progressive good roads spirit that is revolutionizing the good roads proposition of our country. While our whole surrounding country is moving ahead at great strides with good roads, Oconee can come. The ambition of my life is good roads for Oconee county. I invite co-operation.

Respectfully,
W. C. Foster, Supervisor.

STATE CONSTABLES DEPOSED.

Governor Issues Proclamation for Revocation of Commissions.

Columbia, Jan. 11.—In a proclamation received early this morning by local newspapers for publication as advertisements, Governor Cole L. Blease announces the revocation of the commissions of all constables holding office under the Governor and of all commissioners of deeds for South Carolina in other States and in foreign countries.

The revocation is to take effect January 21, 1913. The Governor gives as his reason for removing the commissioners a desire to "purify the public service."

No reason is given for the removal of the constables, who include all State and county detectives and liquor constables and all special officers of railroads and other carriers. Commissioners are invited to apply for reappointment.

When you want a reliable medicine for a cough or cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

JUDGE ARCHBALD CONVICTED.

Forever Barred from Holding Public Office of Honor or Trust.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Robert W. Archbald, of Scranton, Pa., for twenty-nine years an occupant of judicial positions upon the Pennsylvania State bench, the Federal District bench and the United States Commerce Court, was to-day adjudged guilty by the United States Senate of "high crimes and misdemeanors;" was stripped of his office and forever disqualified from holding positions of public honor or public trust.

The conviction and judgment came at the conclusion of the impeachment trial that has been pending in the Senate since last summer on charges that Judge Archbald had been guilty of misconduct and misbehavior as a judge, and that he had corruptly used his judicial power to further the private interests of himself and his friends in the acquisition of coal land properties in Pennsylvania.

Not Guilty on Eight Counts.

Upon five of the thirteen separate charges brought against him by the House of Representatives, Judge Archbald was found guilty. Upon the other eight the Senate voted him not guilty, the majority in some cases being against him, but failing of the two-thirds necessary for conviction. Any one of the five verdicts of guilty was enough to bring about the punishment imposed upon him.

The end of the long fought struggle in the Senate came early in the afternoon, when the vote was taken on the first article of impeachment. With gallery doors locked to prevent the movement of spectators, and an unaccustomed hush prevailing throughout the chamber, sixty-eight Senators rose in their places as their names were called and pronounced the word "guilty" in almost inaudible tones.

The vote on the first charge that Judge Archbald had corruptly influenced officials of the Erie Railroad to sell him the Katydid culm dump, at Scranton, resulted in his conviction by a vote of 68 to 5.

Receives News from Son.

In a little committee room off the gallery floor, behind a guarded door, Judge Archbald, his wife and his son sat throughout the afternoon as the Senate voted upon the charges against him. The first vote of conviction was carried to him by his son from the gallery. After sentence had been imposed upon him, Judge Archbald and his family left the Capitol, to go at once to the family home at Scranton.

"I have always known that I have done no wrong and the vote of no one makes it otherwise," was his only comment upon the Senate's action.

Sentence was imposed by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, the presiding officer, after the Senate had, by a vote of 39 to 35, upheld a resolution offered by Senator O'Gorman, of New York, authorizing the full penalty provided by the constitution.

Sentence Pronounced.

"The Senate, therefore, do order and decree," said Senator Bacon, "and it is hereby adjudged, that the respondent, Robert W. Archbald, Circuit Judge for the United States for the Third Judicial Circuit, and designated to serve in the Commerce Court, be, and he is hereby, removed from office and that he, and hereby is, forever disqualified to hold or enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States."

The sentence of the Senate became operative at once, and directions were given that the President and the House of Representatives be notified of the verdict and the punishment imposed.

Of the ten men who have been impeached before the Senate since the organization of the government Judge Archbald is the third to be convicted, and the only one convicted who appeared to make a personal defense against the charges.

Tillman for Conviction.

Washington, Jan. 13.—In the voting on the various counts against Judge Archbald in the Senate to-day, Senator Tillman asked to be excused on account of pressure of business from participating in the ballots on the minor points, but on the main point, that of conviction, he voted against the impeached judge.

"TIM" SULLIVAN'S SAD FATE.

N. Y. Congressman, Once Newsboy, Suffers Loss of Mind.

New York, Jan. 11.—By court order, it was learned to-day, Congressman-elect "Tim" Sullivan, long a prominent figure in State legislative affairs, will be formally committed to a private sanitarium in Yonkers. He has been a voluntary patient for several months, recuperating. It has been said, from a nervous breakdown, but upon application yesterday by relatives a court order was issued, formally committing the patient. The action seems to involve the probability of a special election for Congressman to succeed Sullivan in the Thirtieth District.

Mr. Sullivan's career has been unusual, starting as a newsboy on East Side. One of his most popular features has been charitable work. Every Christmas he has distributed thousands of pairs of shoes and other useful gifts, besides giving a great dinner for the poor.

MENDEL SMITH IS SPEAKER.

Hoyt Re-elected Clerk of House—To Drop Factionalism.

Columbia, Jan. 14.—Meeting at noon the House of Representatives effected an organization by electing Richard S. Whaley, of Charleston, temporary chairman. Mendel L. Smith, of Kershaw, was re-elected Speaker without opposition. James A. Hoyt was re-elected Clerk, defeating J. Wilson Gibbs. In an address to the House Speaker Smith advised that factionalism be discarded.

Senate Committees.

A Senatorial caucus Monday night nominated P. L. Hardin, of Chester, for president pro tem of the Senate and also chairman of the finance committee, and named the following as chairmen of the committees designated:

Committee of Judiciary: Huger Sinkler, of Charleston; of Education: Hall, of Charleston; of Penitentiary: Clifton, of military, and Appellate of railroads.

These nominations will be presented to the Senate to-morrow and are practically certain of confirmation. About thirty Senators attended the caucus, which was composed of hold-over and old Senators re-elected. Senator Hardin presided over the caucus and Senators Weston and Mars acted as secretaries.

Governor's Message Read.

S. McGowan Simkins, of Edgefield, was elected Reading Clerk of the House, and J. S. Wilson was elected Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Senate met promptly at noon with Lieutenant Governor Smith presiding. Senator Hardin was chosen president pro tem and the other officers were re-elected.

Governor's Recommendations.

The annual message of Governor Blease contains the following recommendations:

A flat two-cent passenger rate on all railroads; a special one-mill tax for the support of common schools; change the name of Clemson College to Calhoun University; combine the Medical College in Charleston with the University; a water-power tax; repeal of the right of cities and towns to grant exclusive franchises; a lower legal rate of interest to six per cent.

The Governor scored the Comptroller General for turning down pay warrants of his detectives; he attacked cotton mill mergers, and recommended that the hosiery mill at the penitentiary be abolished.

J. BENJAMIN TARRANT DEAD.

Prominent Citizen Passed Away After Brief Illness—Local News.

Bounty Land, Jan. 13.—Special: There have been several cases of grip in the community during the past week. Mesdames J. R. and W. D. Wright have both been confined to their beds, and A. W. Perritt is still unable to be out. All are reported some better.

Mrs. J. B. Pickett has been quite feeble for several days, but is up again.

Will Hall, of Augusta, Ga., is on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Martha Hall.

J. B. Shanklin, of Anderson, arrived here yesterday as a guest of his mother, Mrs. Julia D. Shanklin, leaving to-day.

Morris Shanklin left last week for a business trip to Atlanta.

Miss Susan Doyle has been in Anderson since Tuesday. She is receiving special throat treatment under Mrs. Nardin and Sanders.

Calhoun Wilson, of Belton, visited at B. E. Bagwell's Friday.

Burns Gillison, of Clemson, made a visit to homefolks Saturday and Sunday.

T. O. Berry made a brief trip to Greenville last week.

Miss Marie Woolbright, of Townville, spent a few days last week with her grandfather, B. E. Bagwell.

Misses Mertis and Dana Cleveland entertained quite a number of their friends Wednesday evening.

Miss Agnes Ellison is on an extended visit to relatives in Easley, Belton and Greenville.

Joe McDonald and Edgar Shanklin have been doing some much needed work on the road between McDonald's and Richland church. The road has been almost impassable for some time, several buggies having been broken, and travel became even dangerous. We hope the new Supervisor will look after the road conditions more closely than has been the custom heretofore.

We regret to chronicle the death of J. Ben Tarrant, Sr., which occurred at his home in this community yesterday at 2 o'clock. Mr. Tarrant was 55 years of age. He was born in Greenville county, and moved to this community from Pelzer about 25 years ago, and he had since resided here with the exception of one or two years spent in South Georgia.

He leaves three sons to mourn his death, viz.: J. Ben Tarrant, Jr., of North Carolina; Arthur Tarrant, of Florida; and Claude Tarrant, of Newberry. Mr. Tarrant had been ill of pneumonia only about two weeks and was thought to be some better only a short time previous to his death. He was a quiet, unassuming neighbor and citizen and will be missed by a host of friends. His remains will be interred at Seneca cemetery this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. M. Gillison spent Saturday and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Stribling, of Seneca.

FORMER OCONEE CITIZEN DEAD.

William Korber Passed Away at His Home in Charleston.

William Korber, well known in Walhalla, where for a number of years he resided and was numbered among the best citizens of the town, died at his home, No. 8 Bufan street, Charleston, last Friday, after an illness of several weeks. From a dispatch sent out from Charleston we take the following information:

"Mr. Korber was known to be ill, but his condition was not generally thought to be serious, and the announcement of his death was a shock to many of his friends and acquaintances."

"Mr. Korber was 69 years of age. He was for many years shipping clerk at the wholesale house of Wulbern & Company, holding the position when he was taken ill. A native of Charleston, he had a deep and lively interest in everything pertaining to Charleston, and in a quiet and unassuming way he worked for the good and betterment of the community."

"In the circles of Masons and Odd Fellows Mr. Korber will be especially missed. He was ardent in his affiliation with these orders and a most regular attendant upon meetings and a reliable worker in the ranks. He was especially prominent Masonically. He was secretary of La Candeur Lodge, No. 36, A. F. M., and he held the same office in both South Carolina Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, and Enoch Council, No. 1, Royal and Select Masters. He was a member of other Masonic bodies as well. Remarkably active for his years, Mr. Korber never hesitated to parade with the orders with which he was affiliated and otherwise take part in the public as well as the secret workings. A few years ago he was injured in a runaway accident during the parade of the Commandery of Troy, N. Y., and the local Commandery of Knights Templar, and it was feared for a time that his injuries would prove serious, but he recovered, to renew his active affiliation with the order."

"A good soldier in the Confederate army, Mr. Korber had a lively interest for everything pertaining to the cause. He was an officer in Camp A. Burré Rhett."

The news of Mr. Korber's death brought genuine sorrow to many in Walhalla, where he was held in the highest esteem. For many years he resided here, and it was from Walhalla (in 1861) that he volunteered as a soldier in the ranks of the Confederacy. He was mustered into service as a member of Orr's Rifles, Company C, (Capt. J. J. Norton), at Sandy Springs on July 20th, 1861. From that date to the close of hostilities he followed the fortunes of the Southern Confederacy, serving with marked bravery and distinction. We have the statement from his life-long friend and comrade, Capt. S. K. Dendy, that no better or braver soldier ever bore arms in defense of his country.

His life was one in which the word honor meant most, and in every act it seemed to dominate his being. In war and peace he served his country well as soldier and citizen, and in his daily life he exemplified to a marked degree the principles of Christianity. He was a staunch member of the Lutheran church, and on Sunday afternoon, after funeral services at St. Andrew's Lutheran church, Charleston, his remains were interred in Magnolia cemetery, near that city.

Mr. Korber is survived by one sister, Mrs. Maggie Korber, of Charleston, to whom we join with a host of other friends in extending sincere sympathy in her sorrow.

Shot in Charleston Hotel.

Charleston, Jan. 13.—Some excitement was caused in the lobby of the St. John Hotel this afternoon by W. T. Ritter attempting to shoot Clerk Griffin. Ritter entered the hotel and asked for a 50-cent room. He was told that there was no room to be had at this cost and he placed a roll of bills on the counter. Stepping off a few feet he returned to the counter and examining the roll he declared that some of his money had been stolen. Griffin attempted to assure him to the contrary, when he blamed a bellboy standing nearby. A dispute followed with the clerk, and when he drew his pistol the negro seized his arm and in the tussle which ensued the pistol was discharged, the ball entering the arm of the stranger. Ritter was placed under arrest and later sent to a hospital for treatment.

Wives of Three Presidents Meet.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Three "First ladies of the land" dined at the White House to-day, when Mrs. Taft entertained Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison. White House attaches say no record shows the wives of three Presidents dining together there before.

Postmasters for South Carolina.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The following South Carolina postmasters were appointed to-day: James F. McKelvey, Fountain Inn; David Hunt, Seneca; James P. Metcalf, Inman; Louis Jacobs, Kingstree.

After a girl passes 26 or 27 she might as well marry. She will fade, anyway.
